DON'T STOP BELIEVIN'

BY JOURNEY

1981

Michael Steelman, soloist

arr. Alan Billingsley

Cary Gibson, soloist

John Mark Carter, cover

Julia Chertkof, cover

Full Dance Team

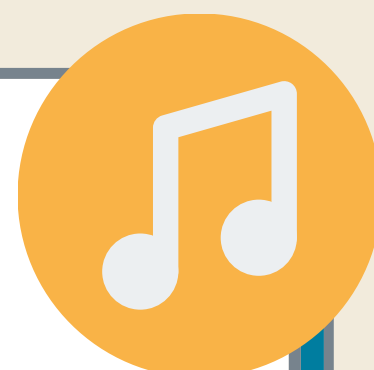

Devon Gunn, Dance Captain

This power ballad was inspired by advice from Jonathan Cain's father, who told him, "Don't stop believing or you're done, dude."

In 2022, Don't Stop Believin' was selected by the Library of Congress for preservation in the United States National Recording Registry as being "culturally, historically, or aesthetically significant."

In 2008, it became the most downloaded track of the 20th century on the iTunes Music Store

I WANNA DANCE WITH SOMEBODY

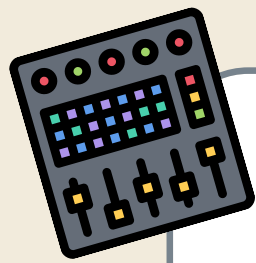

BY WHITNEY HOUSTON

1987

Full Dance Team

arr. Allan Laiño

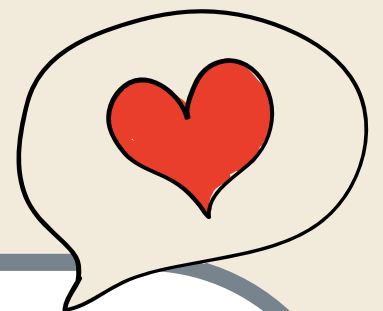

Kelly Griffin, Dance Captain

Produced by Narada Michael Walden who joined Journey in 2020

Houston won her second Best Female Pop Vocal Performance for this song at the 30th Annual Grammy Awards

Writer Shannon Rubicam said: I pictured somebody single wishing that they could find that special person for themselves. It wasn't, 'I wanna go down the disco and dance,' really. It was, 'I wanna do that dance of life with somebody.' That was the thought behind the song.

WHEN DOVES CRY

BY PRINCE

1984

Christopher Daniels, soloist

arr. Allan Laiño

Kelly Griffin, soloist

Hayley Fleming, soprano

Sarah Bruno, alto

Blake Brittain, tenor

Dance Team

Russell Ames

Lynne Barstow

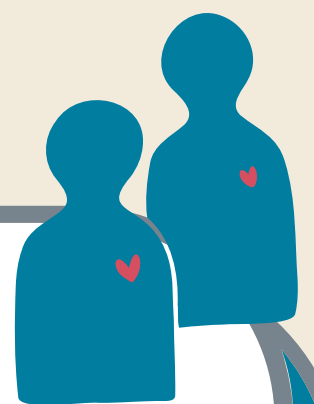

Steven Boyd

Kristina Kelly

Loretta Richardson

Prince's first Billboard Hot 100 No. 1 single, staying there for five weeks

The song was intended to match a theme of a difficult parental relationship and a love affair for a segment of Purple Rain, but was also inspired by Prince's relationship with Susan Moonsie

AFRICA

BY TOTO

1982

arr. Roger Emerson

Reached No.1 on the Billboard charts, and became popular in the 2010s with Weezer's cover (which version do you think is better?)

Co-founder and writer David Paich said that the song is about a man's love of the continent Africa

He was inspired after watching a late-night documentary with depictions of African plight and suffering

"It both moved and appalled me, and the pictures just wouldn't leave my head. I tried to imagine how I'd feel about it if I was there and what I'd do." - David Paich

TRUE COLORS

BY CYNDI LAUPER

1986

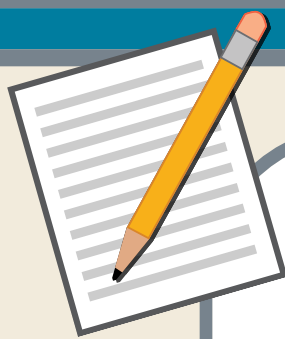

This performance is dedicated to Claudia Levy (1943-2021), a longtime member and fierce supporter of the Congressional Chorus family.

Briana Thibeau, soloist
Paden Tranter, cover

arr. Matthew Brown

Lauper founded the True Colors annual music festival to support LGBT charities and human rights activism (Joan Jett and the B-52's were featured in the festival!)

Written by songwriter Billy Steinberg about his own mother

The song has taken on special meaning in the gay community which is represented by a rainbow pride flag. Lauper, a continuous supporter of LGBTQ rights, was thrilled to hear the song resonated with that community.

I LOVE ROCK 'N ROLL

BY JOAN JETT & THE BLACKHEARTS
1981

Eliza Abendroth, soloist

Originally recorded and released by the British rock band Arrows in 1975

Joan Jett decided to record the song after seeing the Arrows perform and recorded her cover with members of the Sex Pistols

LOVE SHACK

BY THE B-52S

1989

John Mark Carter, soloist
Kristina Caggiano Kelly, soprano
Hayley Fleming, alto

Featured in Full House, Glee, and the Simpsons, and is referenced in Everybody Talks by Neon Trees

Inspired by—you guessed it—an actual shack with a tin roof, near Athens, Georgia where the band conceived "Rock Lobster", a single from their debut album

The "Love Shack" is in many ways a state of mind; a place where people of all stripes come for a groovy good time. The band drew inspiration from a real club called the Hawaiian Ha-Le. This place drew a multifarious crowd of hippies, scenesters, and lots of students from the nearby University of Georgia.

HOLD ON

BY WILSON PHILLIPS

1990

Karen Dowling, soprano 1

arr. Kirby Shaw

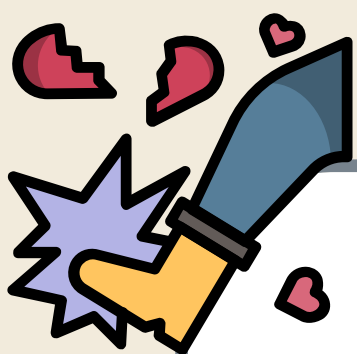

Devon Gunn, soprano 2

Hayley Fleming, soprano 2 cover

Michelle Kannan, alto

Written by Chynna Phillips about her personal struggle with addiction, based on lessons she learned in AA. Phillips later said, "I thought to myself, 'Well, AA tells me, just hold on, just one day at a time.'"

On release, Hold On kicked Madonna's Vogue off the No.1 Billboard spot

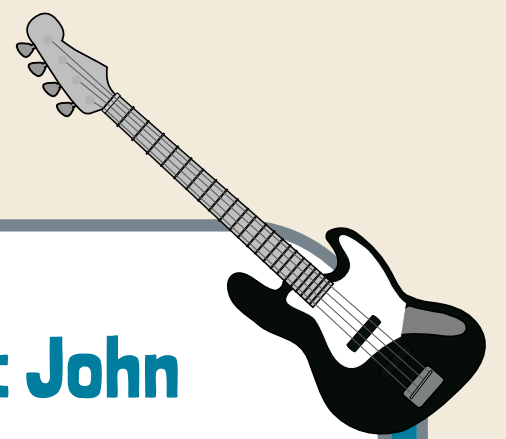

UNDER THE BRIDGE

BY RED HOT CHILI PEPPERS

1991

Jonathan Lain, soloist

Blake Brittain, cover

The song's intro by guitarist John Frusciante was inspired by Hendrix's 1967 Little Wing

Similar to Hold On, Anthony Kiedis wrote the song about his personal struggle with addiction to heroin and cocaine, ultimately impacting his relationship with girlfriend Lone Skye

No Diggity (1996) by Blackstreet samples "Grandma's Hands" by Bill Withers. The beat was originally suggested to Tupac, but Dre ultimately sold it to Teddy Riley.

Btw, in case you were wondering, 'no diggity' means 'no doubt'. You're welcome.

I Want It That Way (1999) by Backstreet Boys was voted the best boyband single since 1998.

The song is beloved as a pop ballad, but the lyrics have been criticized for 'making no sense' even by admission of the original writers!

BOY BAND MEDLEY

CONT.

Tearin' Up My Heart (1997) was initially pitched to the Backstreet Boys but NYSYNC ultimately recorded it.

The song ranked #5 on Billboard's 100 Greatest Boy Band Songs of All Time

TOP 100

...(below I Want It That Way at #1)

The etymology of Motown Philly (1991) by Boyz II Men involves a combination of two of the group's main musical influences: 1960s Motown and 1970s Philly Soul.

Bye Bye Bye (2000) by NSYNC was written by Kristian Lundin, a Swedish composer who also wrote numerous Backstreet Boys hits along with Max Martin.

There are three Alfred Hitchcock film titles hidden in the lyrics of Bad Romance (2009) by Lady Gaga Lady Gaga was accused of ripping off Madonna's Express Yourself (1989) on her 2011 #1 hit, Born This Way. However, Gaga claimed to have received an email from Madonna, in which the Queen of Pop gave her support on behalf of the single.

VIVA LA DIVA!

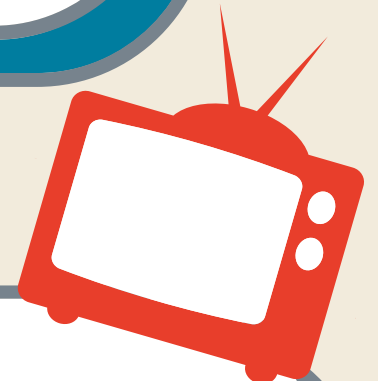

CONT.

Cathy Dennis said that writing Toxic (2003) was "sheer torture." She told Songwriting magazine: "I beat myself up for seven days, not sleeping. The melody came first, then I had this puzzle of trying to fit words to the right number of syllables. It was really weird. I kept writing and then re-editing myself again, and again, and again."

Lady Gaga initially wrote Telephone for singer Britney Spears' sixth studio album, Circus, but Spears went in a different direction

The Single Ladies' dance is based on a dance performed on the Ed Sullivan Show in 1969

SEVEN NATION ARMY

BY THE WHITE STRIPES

2003

Blake Brittain, soloist

When Jack White wrote the main riff for this song, his first idea was to save it in case he ever got the chance to write a James Bond theme

The title of the song comes from what Jack White thought the Salvation Army was called when he was a child

RE: STACKS

BY BON IVER

2003

CHAMBER ENSEMBLE

as performed by Sonos
arr. Jessica Rae Freedman

The name "Bon Iver," is actually derived from the French phrase "Bon Hiver" meaning "Good Winter"

The use of "Re" in the song title relates to the "Regarding" people use in letters and emails 2018, he debuted on the Kennedy Center stage as a choral conductor, collaborating with The Philip Glass Ensemble and The Washington Chorus in tribute to honoree Philip Glass at The Kennedy Center Honors. He returned to lead TWC in a choral feature for the NSO Pops holiday concerts. As Assistant Conductor for TWC, he stepped in on short notice to finish choral preparation and serve as substitute chorus master for the world premiere of Lera Auerbach's ARCTICA with the NSO and Teddy Abrams. As Co-Conductor of the Sunday Night Singers in 2012, he earned First Prize at the World Choir Games in the Mixed Chamber Choir Champions Division. He is the 2018 winner of The American Prize—Community Chorus Division, and was a finalist in two categories for the 2020 The American Prize in Composition.

As a Principal Associate Conductor and Artistic Coordinator with the National Children's Chorus, Dr. Laiño conducts ensembles in the Senior Division, and supervises a nationwide musicianship program. As Co-Artistic Director of DC-based professional ensemble Bridge, Laiño produced, edited, directed, and sang in America, You're Beautiful, a short film that merged spoken word and choral music to

DR. STEVEN SEIGART

Principal Accompanist

Dr. Steven Seigart is a conductor, organist, and composer based in the D.C. area. Dr. Seigart holds degrees in choral conducting and organ from the University of Maryland, Boston University, and the Eastman School of Music. He specializes in improvisation, has been featured on NPR's Pipedreams Live!, and was a semifinalist in the National Competition in Organ Improvisation. He has held positions at the Church of St. Joseph (Bronxville, NY), Christ Church (Rochester, NY), St. Paul's Cathedral (Syracuse, NY), and many others across the Northeast. He currently serves as Director of Music at the Old Presbyterian Meeting House in Alexandria, Virginia and as Principal Accompanist for the Congressional Chorus. He is also active as a collaborative pianist, continuo player, and composer, and resides in Burke, VA with his wife Suzanne and their dog, Schubert. More at stevenseigart.com.

CHRIS URQUIAGA

Composer, Guest Conductor,
Guest Soloist

Singer-songwriter, pianist, and producer Chris Urquiaga, known as JChris, is lauded for his exciting performance energy and smooth voice. Hailed as “...the next big thing” by Metro Weekly magazine, this Latin pop virtuoso is internationally recognized for his pop compositions which are laced with Latin, Afro and Brazilian influences. His music explores themes of gender fluidity and queer culture.

Chris started playing piano at the age of 7 and started playing at churches at the age of 9. During Chris’ childhood years, his performance experiences as a soloist and with choral and instrumental ensembles brewed an interest in composition. Throughout high school and college, Chris developed a desire to tell his own story through his own music. After studying composition at the Eastman School of Music, Chris became highly active as a singer-songwriter, releasing indie pop albums under the stage name Chris Urquiaga. Chris’ desire to deepen his connection with and express his Brazilian, Peruvian and gay identity, led him a new direction. In 2020, Chris rebranded himself as an urban Latin artist under the stage name JChris. As JChris, he has already seen great success with the release of his singles. His 2021 single, Caliente (featuring major Latin artist Naldo Benny), has reached over 1 million views on YouTube. Chris’ Spotify channel has over 500,000 streams.

Chris has co-arranged and co-produced with JohnnyTechAudio for his new sound as JChris. As a team, they have received critical acclaim for their high-quality and edgy urban tracks.

Chris has worked with an international team of professionals including chart-topping superstar Naldo Benny for JChris' "Caliente" music video, and Yurel Echezarreta from the movie West Side Story (Remake) for JChris' upcoming LGBT-centered music videos Oportunidad and Dime. A vocal a cappella version of JChris' Macarena has been made by arranger/composer Tom Anderson, whose arrangements have been featured on NBC's "The Sing Off". The vocal a cappella version of Macarena written by Anderson is planned to be recorded and released in 2023. Chris has also shared the stage with Stokley Williams of the band Mint Condition.

Chris' achievements and accolades led him to receive the 2017 Montgomery County Hispanic Heritage Month Award in Maryland for his achievements in the performing arts and for playing a vital role in shaping his hometown community. In 2019, he was the featured performer for the Hispanic Swearing-In Ceremony for the 116th US Congress, performing for Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez, Nancy Pelosi and Chuck Schumer. That same year, Chris was featured on the cover of Metro Weekly magazine, being described as an artist with a "potent, sweet, and rich voice [with] songwriting skills to match."

While attending the Eastman School of Music, he composed and performed music for all styles and mediums. His education in music helped him achieve several career milestones including commissions by Congressional Chorus, Grace Chorale of Brooklyn and soprano Carmen Balthrop, and performances for Barack and Michelle Obama at The White House, Feinstein's/54 Below, and Conservatorio

CHRIS DECHIARA

Drums

A native of Boston, MA, percussionist Chris DeChiara received his Master of Music degree from New England Conservatory and Bachelor of Music from UMASS Lowell. He was a percussionist and soloist with the United States Navy Band in Washington D.C. for 21 years, drummer of the local cover band, Dr.FU; Iron Maiden tribute, Eyes of the Nile; lead vocalist of the Beatles acoustic group, Nowhere Men; principal timpanist with the Pro Arte Chamber Orchestra, and an active freelancer/recording artist in the Washington D.C. area. Chris resides in Burke, VA.

TOM LAGANA

Guitar

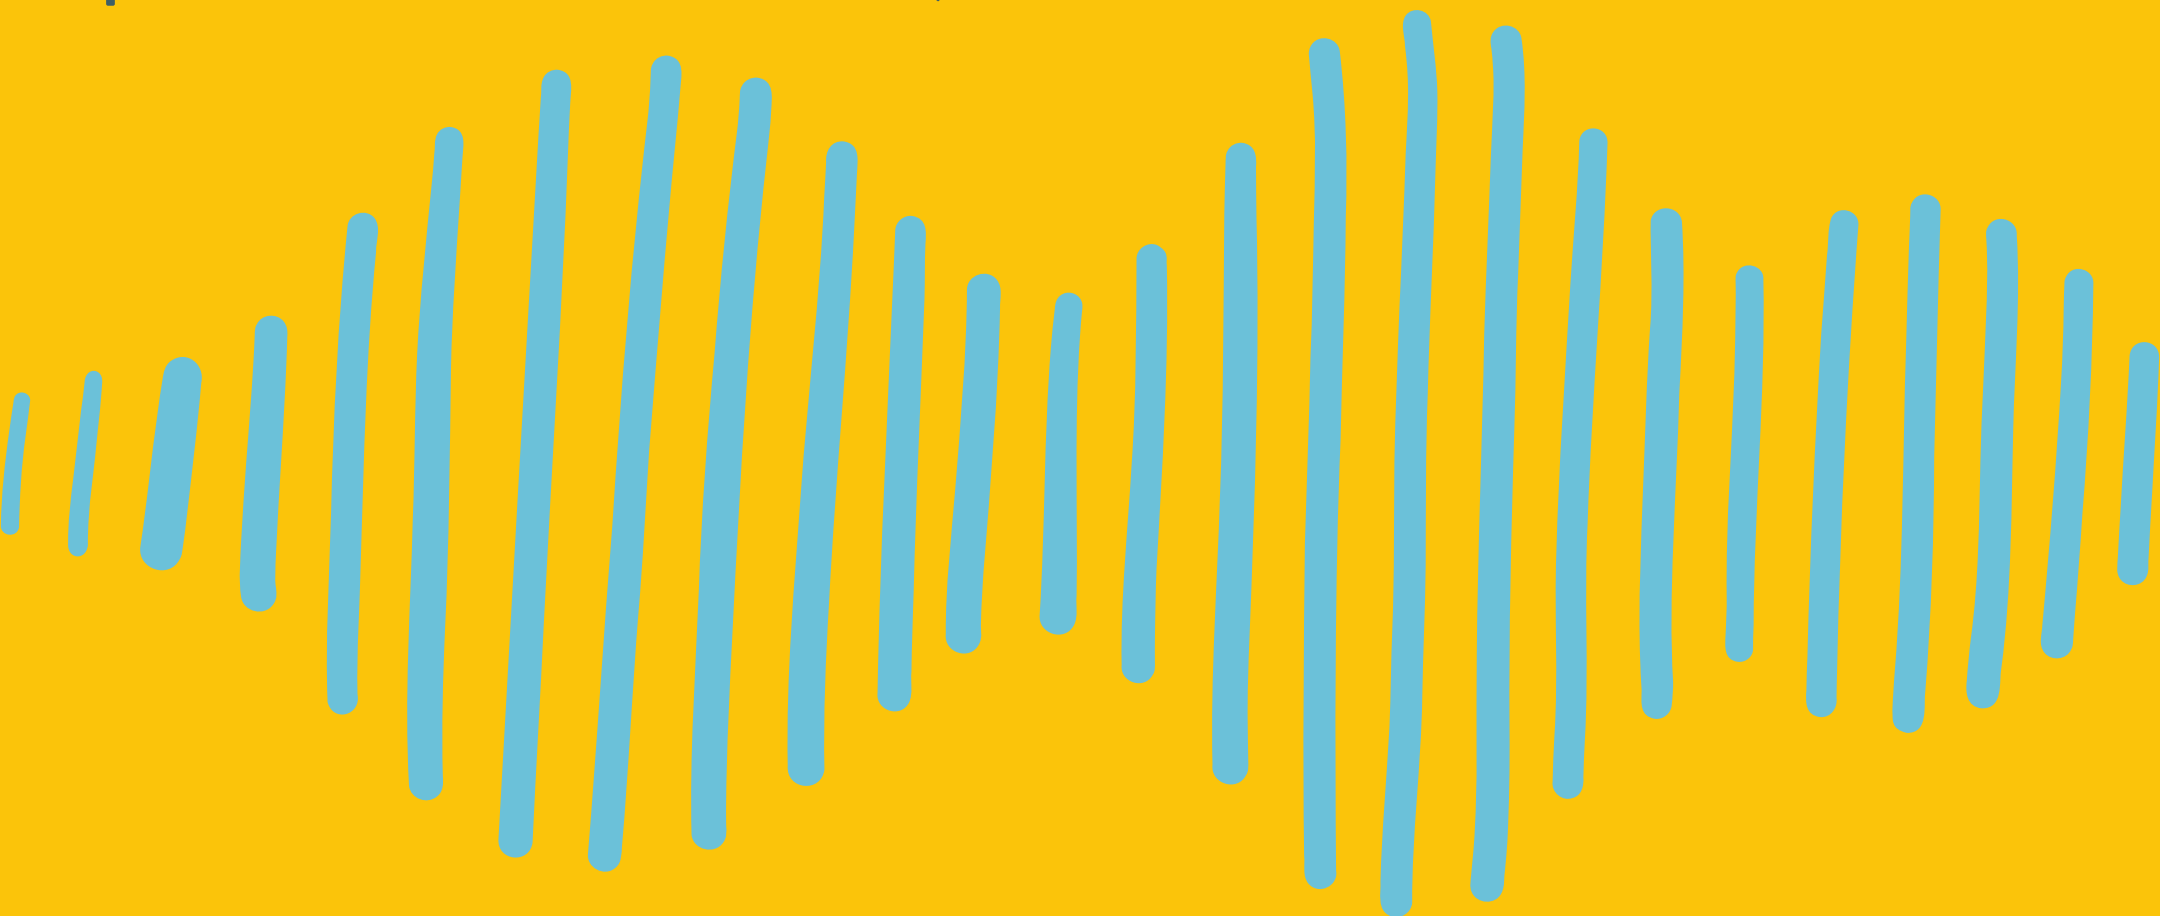

As a jazz guitarist and band leader, a classical guitarist, an educator, and a composer, Tom Lagana has garnered respect for his creativity, musical integrity, and devotion to his craft. After graduating from the Berklee College of Music, he worked as the guitarist for the Walt Disney Jazz Band in Orlando, Florida, before returning to his home state of Maryland where the Tom Lagana Trio became the house band at The King of France Tavern in Annapolis. Lagana went on to get a Masters in Music at Towson University where he was awarded second prize in the Sidney Lieberman Competition, the first guitarist ever to place in that competition. Lagana was featured with the National Symphony Orchestra in David Del Tredici's work Final Alice and appeared again with the NSO and Eric Idle of the Monty Python troupe. He has also performed with the York Symphony Orchestra, the Richmond Symphony, and recently with the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra in the John Waters' Hairspray tribute and again as accompanist to singer Jackie Evancho. He has taught at Towson University and is currently on the faculty at University of Maryland, Baltimore County. His recordings include Patuxent, Schematic, and most recently, Vol.1.

MAX MURRAY

Bass

Bassist MAX MURRAY is a seasoned veteran of the performing and recording scene. He has played nearly every imaginable style of music on both electric and acoustic bass. Max served as a member of the US Navy Band for over two decades. Since his military retirement, he has established himself as a much sought after player in the region. Max has shared the stage with a diverse list of artists, including Henry Mancini, Mose Allison, Jimmy Witherspoon, Lee Greenwood, Neil Sedaka, Louie Bellson, Gene Bertoncini, Poncho Sanchez, Dave Samuels, Richie Cole and Donny McCaslin. His bass work can be heard on many jingles and recordings. In 2008, he earned a Latin Grammy Award with The Caribbean Jazz Project, for Best Latin Jazz Recording. When not on stage, Max can often be found in DC area theatre pits. For more information, please visit his website, www.maxbass.com.
